INSTRUCTIONS FOR ENROLLING IN SUBJECTS IN ENGLISH.

The Faculty of Veterinary Science of the University of Cordoba offers the possibility to study subjects in English (theory and practicals) or to study subjects in a partial way (theory in Spanish and practicals in English), both in the Degrees in Veterinary Medicine and in Food Science and Technology.

The procedure to applying is the following:

1. Self-enrollment in SIGMA of all the subjects that the student will take in the course 2017/18, following the ordinary procedure.
2. For the English courses, you must fill in an Application Form, indicating the subjects that you want to study in English
3. Academic Record
4. Your proficiency in the English language: you must submit a copy of an English Certificate showing that you have the minimum English level required to enroll in the English Itinerary (B1). The students will be selected on the basis of a priority Language Proficiency (English level) and, when necessary, according to the academic record at the time of registration to this course.
5. All documents must be submitted to the Secretary of the Faculty of Veterinary Science.
6. You must contact the Professor/s responsible for the Subject in English you have previously selected in order to find out if there is any special information you need to know prior to commencing the course.
